Overview

Acerta, an HR services provider, faced inefficiencies with HP Quality Center during the testing of their HR software. The system's complexity and lack of responsive support hindered their processes. To streamline operations, they sought a new solution that integrated tightly with Jira and provided practical test management.

Approach

- Searched for a test management tool that offered seamless integration with Jira
- Needed a system that supported many test cases and had simpler project management
- Zephyr Enterprise had a straightforward interface and robust features

Benefits

Adopting Zephyr Enterprise allowed Acerta to enhance collaboration between development and QA, reduce costs, and improve day-to-day testing operations with features like real-time reporting and drag-and-drop functionality.
